

REED IN NEW YORK

He Opens the Campaign for the Republicans.

THE CAUSE OF HARD TIMES

Ascribed to the Uncertainty as to What the Democrats Propose to Do.

New York, October 13.—Thomas B. Reed opened the Republican campaign here tonight before an immense audience. The "Czar" was in magnificent voice and his address was received with the wildest enthusiasm. His address, while dignified, was full of witty sayings and sarcastic remarks about the Democrats and their doctrines. He referred to the denunciation of the senate for its action on the tariff bill by the President and House and said: "My weapons have been taken from me and my occupation as a political speaker for this campaign seem to be gone."

He ascribed the cause of hard times to uncertainty as to what the Democrats proposed to do while they controlled the government, and called attention to the announcements made by Cleveland, Wilson and other Democratic leaders, that the tariff fight had only begun. "The Democrats promise a war on business, certainly, while the Republicans must give you a rest. We do not promise you prosperity, for these conditions are not of our choosing. He admitted the truth of the statement that prosperity led to large fortunes for those who had the genius to create it for others. The more prosperity there is, the more there is to distribute. The only way there has discovered to distribute consumable and enjoyable wealth, is to give a chance to create it and then let each one struggle for it there."

He also referred to the ratification of the new constitution in New York as that which assembled in the speech of ex-speaker Thomas B. Reed. "The demonstration was under the auspices of the regular Republican organization of the city and county of New York. Every corner and side of the hall was crowded by 7:30 o'clock, and the square in front of Cooper Union was filled with people who were treated to campaign speeches by local orators."

THE PRISON DIRECTORS.

Convicts Paroled and Recommended for Pardon.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 13.—At a meeting of the board of prison directors today Warden Hays of San Quentin submitted a plan for the manufacture of jute goods, such as hay, wool and bean bags. The board recommended for pardon Ed Stauble, a boy sentenced to forty years for burglary for July, 1901. His mother mortgaged her farm in the east to enable her to come to California and secure the liberation of her son. Andrea Dominguez, sentenced to five years for burglary, was recommended for pardon. Ventura for grand larceny, was paroled. John McCord, sent from San Francisco for ten years for shooting his brother-in-law, was released for a. McCord is the man who escaped from San Quentin and led a home life in Stockton for ten years when he was discovered and taken back to prison. Edward Langlo, under a thirty years' sentence from Sierra county for murder, was recommended for pardon. A commutation of sentence to sixteen years. Thirteen men are now out on parole and all are doing well.

No Clue Yet.

SACRAMENTO, October 13.—The officials have obtained no clue as yet to the men who robbed the overland express train Thursday night near this city, or if they have, they are keeping it to themselves. No arrests have been made and so far as can be learned no particular persons are suspected. The detectives seem to be quickly awaiting developments.

There is a rumor here tonight that the man who shot his way out of the industrial army last spring, and the man who stole the funds of the army, had been arrested in Woodland on suspicion. The man was sent to jail here for his theft and was released only a week ago. He has served two or three terms in the state prison. Woodland was asked by telephone at 11 p.m., but a newspaper man there replied that he had heard of no such arrest.

Convict Mysteriously Stabbed.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 13.—Charles Johnson, a convict at San Quentin, was stabbed in the throat by another convict last Friday. His assailant is unknown. Johnson was passing with other convicts up stairs into the yard after supper, when a knife was drawn across his throat. Only the weakness of the blow and the kindness of the warden saved Johnson's life. The other convicts regard him with hatred, and made no effort to assist him when he had been stabbed. Johnson was propped not to know who cut him, but says he will ascertain and repay the blow with interest. He is regarded as a dangerous man, and was transferred to San Quentin from Folsom on account of his scheming and plotting.

Caught in a Fly Wheel.

SAN RAFAEL, October 13.—J. Homen, a Portuguese, working at the railroad shops at Old San Rafael, was caught in a revolving fly wheel today and instantly killed. Homen had his back to the wheel, which was revolving at the rate of sixty revolutions per minute, cleaning up some rubbish on the floor, and his back was struck by the wheel. He was caught and hurled around three times, and buried into the pit, being horribly mangled.

Manufacturing Burglar Tools.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 13.—It has been discovered that convicts in San Quentin are engaged in the manufacture of burglar tools. A convict was caught recently with a bundle of such tools in his possession. They were of the finest make and required expert workmanship. The prison officials are at a loss to ascertain how the convicts found time and opportunity to make them.

Elliott Outshoots Carver.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., October 13.—Even the most enthusiastic admirer of Dr. Carver cannot doubt the superiority of J. A. H. Elliott over him at pistol shooting at thirty yards and fifty yards. Elliott was practically settled at the position park today by Elliott taking the third and last match of the series by a score of 50 to 30. Elliott in his winning the decisive shot, Elliott's record of 199 birds out of 200 in the last two matches is something that will go down in trap shooting history as a record.

Corbett Talking Again.

BUFFALO, October 13.—Champion James J. Corbett said tonight that he would agree to every change in the articles prepared by Fitzsimmons except that the fight must be for the championship belt. "It is a valuable belt," said he, "and I want it. This will be my last fight, win or lose. I will not let a thing slip from me this fight. If the Florida Club cannot pull it off I will agree to New Orleans."

Small But Enthusiastic.

SACRAMENTO, October 13.—The Populists held a meeting here tonight. The speakers were Burdette Cornell, candidate for congress, and T. V. Cator. For the sake of the meeting it was a very enthusiastic one.

A MYSTERY REVIVED.

THE DEATH OF HENRY TRUMBO MAY BE REINVESTIGATED.

Inquiries Being Pushed Looking to a Revision of the Evidence at the Inquest.

It was learned yesterday that a stranger, supposed to be a private detective, has been quietly pushing inquiries directed to ascertain the true cause of death in the case of Henry Trumbo, at one time a confederate residing in this city. A little over three years ago Henry and George Trumbo, brothers, ran the candy store now known as the Maceo, in the Grand Central block. The place was then known as the Candy Kitchen and the brothers did quite an extensive business, manufacturing their own goods. One Saturday night, about the end of August, 1891, Henry Trumbo picked out a lady, a first class, and a pretty young woman, returning to his lodgings at L and Moreland streets late. Next morning his brother George found that the store had been opened, and that Henry was dead in bed. A pistol was found in the room with a chamber discharged and in the absence of other evidence the coroner's jury returned a verdict that Henry Trumbo had committed suicide. The fact that his watch and considerable money, which he had in his possession, were missing, coupled with the fact that the window of the room was found open, caused considerable suspicion at the time. The watch and money afterwards turned up and the matter was gradually forgotten. George Trumbo left the city some months afterwards, the business having been disposed of to a man named Tucker, who left town a month later and was subsequently found in San Francisco Bay. In his case a verdict of suicide was rendered. The dual mystery occasioned some comment at the time and the inquiries recently set on foot have brought the matter freshly and vividly before the minds of those to whom the inquiries were addressed. George Trumbo was here on a visit about three weeks ago. The family was originally from Salt Lake, where a third brother still resides. The fourth brother, Colonel Isaac Trumbo, is a well known resident of San Francisco. The matter of Henry Trumbo's death formed the subject of a special investigation by the grand jury at the time, but no action was taken, the evidence being held to be inconclusive.

NEW MINES DISCOVERED.

Porterville About to Become a Gold-Digging Camp.

From the Porterville Enterprise. Porterville has now taken her place in the mining ranks. Several have been discovered and opened up this week, and the results up to the present have been such that a regular crusade is to be made in the hills skirting our beautiful town. Every prospect brought in has contained gold in large quantities, and encouraging results bid fair towards making mining one of the biggest industries in this part of the San Joaquin valley. Some of the following are now the possessors of rich claims, which are being worked, and in a few weeks we will be enabled to publish the results: Charles Pines, Joe Colliard, H. M. Niles, H. M. Niles and Ben Tucker. All these claims are situated within two miles of town, and are easy of access and conveniently located. The mining outlook is brightening in this county. Fine milling with increased width of lead, is found in the local mine, and they expect to have a mill this fall. The Tailhook mines are yielding as well as before, while additional developments are being made.

Low Price for Oranges.

From the Sauger Herald. The commission merchants of Fresno have offered orange growers on Kings river 50 cents per box for the crop of seedling oranges which is now ripening, but they are not inclined to sell at such low figures. A box will hold 150 to 175 good-sized oranges, and the price offered will not let the grower about 4 cents per dozen. Our growers retail at 25¢ per dozen, and it is quite evident that the commission men expect to realize a big profit while the producer gets very little for his share.

Madera Court House Bonds.

The Board of Supervisors of Madera county decided a short time ago to submit to the voters of the county a proposition to bond the county to build a court house, but at a meeting Thursday it was ordered that all former action be rescinded. There will be no bonds there at present.

FIELD OF POLITICS.

Governor Markham Answers Budd's Charges.

HARRISON IN INDIANAPOLIS

The Democratic Party Will be Held Responsible for Destroying Reciprocity.

SACRAMENTO, October 13.—Governor Markham last night addressed a large and enthusiastic meeting in this city in refutation of the charges made by the Democratic nominees for governor that the present administration has been extravagant in handling the money of the state. The Governor said he had been told that Budd is promising a great reduction in the expenditures of the state, but he has failed to hear of a single item in which Budd would advocate a change. The Governor said there was no mystery about the expenditures of the present administration, and that the items are open to inspection to all.

Harrison Makes a Speech.

INDIANAPOLIS, October 13.—Benjamin Harrison returned to night from his speech making tour. At the manufacturing town of New Albany he made a forty minute speech. He said the American people should call to account the party that had so wantonly and unscrupulously abandoned the markets of South and Central America that had been given a start by reciprocity and the McKinley law.

Budd at San Jose.

SAN JOSE, October 13.—James H. Budd, Democratic nominee for the governorship, was given a great reception tonight at the auditorium. Hon. B. D. Murphy introduced the man from Stockton in a very enthusiastic speech, and was applauded to the echo by the 2000 people present. Mr. Budd's introduction was the signal for renewed applause, and his remarks seemed to make a good impression on his hearers.

COLORED BOYS IN LINE.

Preparing for a Grand Parade and Public Speaking.

There was an enthusiastic meeting last night in the Republican headquarters on J street of the Afro-American Republican club. There was a large attendance. The meeting was called to order by Chairman H. Burdette. The club made arrangements for a public meeting in the courthouse park next Friday evening, October 19th, and also for a parade, with music, torches, transparencies and in fact everything that goes to make up a first class procession. The speaking in the courthouse park will be by Rev. G. H. W. Smith of Hartford. When he arrives he will be met at the train by a reception committee consisting of members of the club as follows: J. O. Fagan, U. L. Oak and John Phillips. A committee on arrangements was appointed as follows: R. J. Walton, C. Sanders, J. L. Coast, J. M. Jackson, W. A. Brown, W. M. Vinny and R. M. Jones. One of the most enjoyable parts of the meeting in the park will be the singing by the colored minstrel. They will perform the best and most popular songs of the day. The meeting last night was addressed by Rev. G. H. W. Smith and Rev. Gray.

The Richest Nation.

An exchange says that an investigation of a table of the comparative wealth per capita of nations will show where Great Britain gets all the money she invests in the United States and elsewhere. It shows in plain figures that England is the richest nation of the world, although she has a great national debt. This also shows why England is so unanimous in insisting on the single gold standard.

Reckoning Alaska.

Reckoning Alaska, the amount of wealth per head of the United States is $1039. Nevada is a little state that some people are trying to blot out of existence. Nevada is the richest state in the Union per capita, the average wealth to each individual being $2041. The whole extreme western division of our country is very rich, the average to each person being $2250. The poorest state in the Union is South Carolina, with an average of $348.

CUT WITHOUT LIMIT.

A Commission Packer's Offer to Undercut Everybody. BUREAU REPUBLICAN.—We are in receipt of a telegram from one of our agents, in which he states that the agent of one of the large commission packers here has guaranteed to trade lower prices than he would sell at, on arrival of his consignment. In other words they will cut below any price we might name, and underbid us. This will of course be good news to the grower who is delivering to the commission packers. It is to be hoped that the packers are using the growers' money to injure their fellow growers who are members of this company. THE PROGRESSIVE BUREAU PACKING CO.

Pretty Steep Tax.

The total tax paid by those who own property in the Alta Irrigation district is pretty steep. The district tax is $2.14 on $100 valuation, and the county and state tax on top of it, making the total approach pretty nearly $4 tax on every $100 of property. Tax higher than this is not common in this country; but when a country is being developed, and when this development is purchased chiefly with money, it takes money to do it.

WOFFORD OBJECTS.

Larceny Case Against Lehman Taken Under Advisement.

THE JIM BUDD CLUB.

It Holds a Short Business Session Last Night.

The Jim Budd club was to have one of its democratic meetings last night, but it failed to materialize. Nine lone, weary disciples of Budd waited in Judge Critchton's court room, and after waiting in vain for a while for President Goucher, Vice President A. J. Hendon took the chair. There was no secretary because, as explained after the meeting, he was absent. Judge Critchton acted as master of ceremonies. The only business done was to appoint a committee to secure a hall for a meeting next Friday evening. Judge Critchton told the chairman to put the motion to adjourn, which was done accordingly.

MID SNOW AND ICE.

NARROW ESCAPE OF BIERCE AND SOLOMONS.

The Two Missing Youths Turn Up. Caught in a Sierra Snow Storm.

The two young men from San Francisco, Lee Bierce and T. B. Solomons, who were feared had perished in the mountains during the late severe snow storm there, and of whom mention was made in yesterday's REPUBLICAN, arrived in Fresno on Wednesday evening last and stopped at the Fresno House, where Solomons is well known. After spending a quiet day here, they left for home Thursday night. To friends they related a story of adventure, suffering and narrow escape from death. After leaving the Yosemite valley they struck out across the high mountains to the south, their objective point being the upper Kings river canyon, where they intended taking refuge in the old mine and picturesque region. High up on the Sierras they were overtaken by the terrible storm mentioned above. It snowed three days and nights, during which time their stock of provisions was exhausted and they were reduced to a mere shell. When the storm abated a start was made for Fresno. One of their two burros was killed and the journey began, but the snow was so deep that it was found impossible to travel with the burro or any other load. Accordingly the animal was shot and its suffering, and equipment, consisting of blankets, camera, photographic views, guns, etc., were abandoned and the travelers again began their weary march for the plains, sinking into the snow waist deep in many places, and eventually stopping by the side of some huge logs to build a fire to thaw out and dry their clothing. After a long tramp they arrived completely exhausted and almost faint, at a sheep camp, where they were taken care of by the herder, with his band, who declared it was the closest call of their lives, and that they have had enough of the mountains for this season, and quite enough of rough rough experience for the balance of their lives.

EDITOR REPUBLICAN.—In times like these of financial stringency, when the watchword is economy and retrenchment, and when the pinch is felt by all classes of people, why is an exception in wages made in favor of the school teacher? His wages remain the same. ANDREW JACKSON.

WEST PARK HAPPENINGS.

A New Process for Drying and Curing Raisins.

A party composed of the following persons, returned from a hunting trip last Sunday: D. M. Bernwell, Frank Fauling, Frank Wanchopi, Fred Fanning and Mr. Lynch. They were gone two weeks, and report a pleasant trip; and curious to relate, they succeeded in bagging some game.

The Haymakers had a social dance in their hall last Monday evening. A large number were present, and an enjoyable evening was spent. This was not one of their regular socials, but one gotten up on the spur of the moment.

The H. M. S. U. are busy engaged in enlarging their hall, and will finish in a few days. When it is completed they will have a floor fifty-five feet by thirty feet for dancing. It is safe to say that the coming winter will be the liveliest one ever spent in the colony, from a social standpoint, at least.

There are a number of the West Park boys who are going to Fresno on Saturday evenings. They say they go to attend the juvenile Temperance meeting. There is a strong suspicion that the ladies could explain the riddle.

The people of West Park had better put a padlock on their chicken house doors. The ladies are abroad making preparations for the ball next week, and they have their eyes on all persons lucky enough to have chickens; so look out.

James Bowen will finish putting in 100 acres of alfalfa this week. R. Thornton is having the work done on his ranch west of the colony.

The continued fine weather we are having is causing the vineyardists to smile. They are rapidly getting their raisins into the packing houses.

The gathering of the corn crop is engaging the attention of quite a number of West Parkers at present. One of the pleasantest seasons in the world is to get corn dust down the back of your neck.

The merry crack of the breech loader is heard in the land, and doves, quail and cotton tail rabbits are being rapidly thinned out.

On the Fisher ranch this year the raisin crop is being dried in a fashion new to most people in this vicinity at least. The grapes are picked in boxes, taken to the drier where there is an engine. The grapes are dipped in a solution boiling hot. The exact ingredients used are a secret. The grapes are immersed for about ten seconds, then hauled out and spread on trays.

The raisins dry in from six to seven days and when put in the sweat box are a beautiful amber color. They are steamed and boxed on the ranch. The cost of drying is much more than drying in the usual manner, but the raisins undoubtedly command a far higher price than ordinarily sundried raisins.

Whether this process will come into general use or not is problematical.

The W. P. H. M. S. W. will give a candidates' ball next Tuesday evening and preparations are being made for a very large crowd. It will be a Republican one and all the Republican candidates are to be present and will address the meeting.

THE VALLEY ROAD.

Progress and Manner of Asking Subscriptions.

The San Francisco papers are daily giving more or less space to the subject of the Valley road, and the chief thing at present to deserve notice is the progress being made in obtaining subscriptions. It is the desire of the promoters of the enterprise to obtain by subscription the sum of $350,000, which is estimated as one-tenth of the cost of finishing the road. When this sum is secured the line will be incorporated.

The San Francisco papers speak with encouragement of the success so far, but the amount subscribed is not given. The plan of F. W. Van Sickle, second vice president of the Traffic Association, is to secure subscriptions in definite amounts; that is, instead of going to a businessman in San Francisco and asking him, "How much stock will you take?" to go to him and say, in effect, "The Valley railroad asks you to subscribe for $1000 of its stock, not as a donation, but as a business investment."

It is asserted by those who are in position to know that this plan is already bearing abundant fruit.

One other matter in this connection it seems timely to suggest. It is said that one individual in San Francisco, at present anonymous, has subscribed $100,000 of the capital stock of the San Joaquin Valley Railroad. This being so, says the Chronicle, it would seem to be the best policy for the promoters of the new road to lift the veil of secrecy, publish the subscriber's name and so establish the proposition that the new road is not to be built on sentiment, but as a cold business matter.

It can be understood that in the case of some individual subscribers there may be reasons at present why they should remain in the background, but such reasons cannot apply to a man who is able to subscribe $100,000 to the new enterprise. It is not wise to try to take other people's business out of their hands, perhaps, but it certainly would seem to be an excellent stroke of business and a sure promoter of public confidence to make public the name of the man who has undertaken to back the valley railroad to the extent of $100,000, which, in these times, is a great deal of money.

Those who subscribe, be it much or little, are not donating that amount; but they become owners of the road in proportion to the amount they subscribe, and will be sharers in its profits when built.

The following matters were disposed of yesterday in Judge Harris' department of the superior court:

In the suit of D. B. Chaffee, administrator of the estate of S. S. Chaffee, deceased, against Robert M. Gamble and others, judgment by default was given for $200 and costs.

In the case of the California Savings and Loan Society against W. D. Wright and others, judgment was given for $28,917.91, and $876 attorney's fee.

In the matter of the insolvency of J. L. Prather, O. Smalley was appointed assignee, with bonds of $2000.

In the insolvency matter of J. E. Hingle, the petition asking that the homestead be set apart was granted.

There is no time like the present. Subscribers at once for "Glimpses of America."

amex, has among its undergraduates this year the first Japanese girl who came to this country for an education. She is Miss Shida-Mori, and she is charming combination of Japanese and English dandy, American culture and Japanese-English language. She began at Radcliffe since the beginning of the midwinter term, but she has been keeping shyly out of sight until the evening, when there was an entertainment given by Dr. Sargent's school. Then the shy little Japanese made her forth a d gave a foggling exhibition with such grace and skill as to excite variety stage. Instead of presenting classical education in Cambridge, Miss Shida-Mori has been very much in fashion.
